

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

make, together with those for the translation, publication, and distribution of reports shall be paid from a special fund to be created by annual appropriations by the republics represented in such conventions, on the same basis now in force between the American Republics for the maintenance of the Bureau of American Republics. Further, that in the interest of economy the said Bureau of American Republics shall be utilized by the conventions herein referred to, and by the international sanitary bureau herein recommended to the fullest extent possible, for the correspondence, accounting, disbursing, and preservation of the records incident to the work comprised within these resolutions.

[Reports to the Surgeon-General United States Marine-Hospital Service.]

A case of smallpox at San Diego, Cal.

SAN DIEGO QUARANTINE STATION,
San Diego, Cal., January 27, 1902.

SIR: I have the honor to report that a case of variola was discovered in a lodging house in the city on the 25th instant. The man and his wife recently came to San Diego by rail, originally from Idaho, but came to this place via Los Angeles, where they had remained a week or so and where it is supposed the disease was contracted. Neither had ever been vaccinated. The municipal health authorities have quarantined the premises, patient removed to city pesthouse, every precaution being taken. Will advise you if further developments occur.

Respectfully,

W. W. MCKAY.

W. W. MCKEEH,
Acting Assistant Surgeon, U. S. M. H. S.

Arrival at Reedy Island Quarantine of vessels from West Indian ports.

REEDY ISLAND QUARANTINE,
via Port Penn, Del., February 2, 1902.

SIR: Through the medical officer in command of national quarantine service on Delaware Bay and River, I have the honor to report the arrival at this station of the following vessels: January 28, 1902, British schooner Ida, from Baracoa, with cocoanuts; no passengers; bill of health signed by M. Lores Llorens, quarantine officer. February 1, 1902, British steamship Russian Prince, from Havana, with molasses; no passengers; bill of health signed by Surgeon Glennan.

Respectfully,

T. F. RICHARDSON.

T. T. RICHARDSON,
Assistant Surgeon. U. S. M. H. S., In Command.

Arrival at Baltimore of vessels from West Indian ports.

BALTIMORE, MD., February 8, 1902.

SIR: I have to report the arrival of the following vessels at this port for the week ended this day: February 3, British steamship Aboukir, from Daiquiri, with ore; British steamship Kestor, from Santiago de Cuba, with ore; Norwegian steamship Egda, from Daiquiri, with ore; Norwegian steamship Storfond, from Daiquiri, with ore; February 6, British steamship Thornly, from Santiago, with ore.

Respectfully,

W.M. F. STONE,
Collector.